Case Study – Employee Development

A global insurance company ranked among corporations worldwide for providing the best in employee development was looking for a technology training partner to assist them with their employee training curriculum.

Client:
Fortune 500 Global Insurance Company

Industry:
Insurance

Service Provided to Client:
- Corporate Training

The Challenge: The client believes strongly that investing in quality education programs enhances the professional development of their workforce while also promoting and encouraging personal growth. The company's employee training curriculum includes a variety of courses ranging from industry certifications to professional growth and career advancement.

The Solution: Being one of the nation's leading corporate education providers, and offering training solutions that were lacking from competing vendors, Judge Learning Solutions became the client's primary technology training provider.

- Since the relationship began in 2005 through to present day, Judge Learning has delivered over 100 Instructor-Led training classes for the client with an average class size of 14 students. Judge successfully meets the client's employee training schedule in which the bulk of the curriculum is delivered each year at the client's corporate headquarters in Georgia.

- The primary areas of training provided by Judge Learning Solutions are in Information Technology and Professional Development.
  - Information Technology Training - Networking, Application Development, Mainframe, Web Development and Software Development
  - Professional Development Training - Vendor Management, Project Management and Account Management

The Result:
Based on the proven success of the partnership and Judge Learning Solution's familiarity of the client's corporate environment, Judge has evolved from a supplier to a trusted partner in which the client relies on for a large portion of their employee training needs.
